

luxury lingers

Following the award-winning success of luxury boutique hotel Naumi at Seah Street, The Hind Group has opened its second boutique hotel, this time in the heritage-rich area of Chinatown. Named Naumi Liora, with the word 'Liora' signifying light, this 79-room luxurious hotel is set among post-war colonial buildings, hip coffee joints, and traditional local restaurants. Designed by Gaurang Khemka (founder of Singapore-based award-winning design firm URBNarc), Naumi Liora boasts an old yet modern design concept that retains the charms of the 1920s Peranakan-styled building that it is housed in, with the original timber flooring, French-styled windows and 'five-foot way' left in its original glory.

Located at 55 Keong Saik Road. For more information, visit www.naumiliora.com
