

➤ Naumi Liora, Singapore

USP Situated in the ethnic enclave of Chinatown, the hotel is surrounded by post-war colonial buildings, hip coffee joints and watering holes, as well as contemporary upscale and old-school Chinese restaurants. Housed in a heritage building designed in the 1920s, its 79 rooms are split into four categories. Its stylish sister, Naumi Hotel, is an award-winning property in Singapore.

Target Business and leisure travellers who like staying within a colourful and vibrant district.

Price S$380++-S$580++
(US$310-US$473)

Opened November 20, 2012

